Christine Mensinga-Payard – Neuro Developmental Educator. (Director Integrating Thinking, INPP Australia Principal)

B Ed (Hons), M Ed Studies (Lang & Lit), PhD, MAICD.
Neuro-Developmental Therapist (INPP); JIAS Provider.

Chris is a registered teacher and education specialist with special research interests in literacy education, student thinking, professional learning and learning support. She has worked with primary, secondary and tertiary students in many different contexts including private and state schools, University and TAFE institutions; with teachers and educators through private consultancy work; with employees and management in private businesses, local government, manufacturing and industry groups. She has over 26 years of experience in Education and Business Management in Allied Health Practice including owning and operating a family based independent optometry practice for 23 years.

As an experienced educator and trained Neuro-Developmental Therapist, Chris uses the INPP method to investigate and develop programmes to address underlying physical factors such as immature balance, coordination, visual and auditory processes which can impact on learning, performance and achievement.

In 2013 Chris was appointed INPP Principal Practitioner in Australia by Sally Goddard Blythe (Director INPP UK & INPP International). Chris now delivers training programmes in the INPP method in Australia and is responsible for administration and co-ordination of INPP training and licencing processes in Australia. She studied the INPP method directly with Sally Goddard Blythe and the late Dr Peter Blythe (PhD).

Chris is committed to ongoing research and study in the area of Neuro-Developmental Education and works towards establishing networks with other health care and educational support practitioners equally passionate about learning and supporting learning.

Chris is an Associate member of the Australian College of Behavioural Optometrists, a member of the Australian Association for Research in Education, the Australian College of Educators and a Member of the Australian Institute of Company Directors.

“I am passionate about learning, learning about learning and encouraging others to assist those who find learning challenging.”

Learning is a complex activity incorporating physical, cognitive, behavioural and social elements that enhance or hinder learning and educational experience. Thinking, talking about and looking at ways to integrate and develop these components of learning is the basis of Integrating Thinking™ education consultancy services for children, adults, teachers and other health care and education professionals.
