Background:

Established by Dr Peter Blythe (PhD) in 1975, the Institute for Neuro Physiological Psychology (INPP) is a private research organisation investigating the effects of immature central nervous system (CNS) functioning in children with Specific Learning Difficulties and adults suffering from Agoraphobia and Panic Disorder. Publications relating to the efficacy and effectiveness of the INPP method are listed on the INPP UK website (www.inpp.org.uk).

In the late 1970's Dr Peter Blythe began providing training courses for small groups of professionals in the United Kingdom and Sweden. During the 1990's a formal training course in the methods developed at INPP was established in the United Kingdom. This course is now available in over sixteen countries. INPP International is the certificating body for all countries providing training in its method. Dr Christine Payard (PhD) of Integrating Thinking™, is the Australian INPP Principal delivering the INPP™ training programs under licence in Australia. (Information regarding training programs in Australia can be found on the website: www.inppaustralia.com.au and/or www.integratingthinking.com.au).
